Encanvas® CDP™

OVERVIEW

CDP™ is a hybrid customer data platform that places customers at the heart of your business and data model. Make yours a data-driven enterprise.

With Encanvas® CDP™ you get to know your customers intimately. Discover their behaviors, preferences, transactions, feedback, sentiment, satisfaction, communications and economic worth.

What is it?

Encanvas® CDP™ is an enterprise customer data platform. It harvests, aggregates, cleanses and structures data from operational systems to create a coherent and complete understanding of your customers.

Why use it?

It's the best-equipped and most economic means of creating a comprehensive single view of your customer insights. It benefits from codeless customer data integration (CDI) tooling and advanced AI-enabled methods for determining the best sources of data. Our codeless data connectors and software robots will make light work of sourcing your data and building a new data-mart you can trust.

What to expect

Today, your customer data is most probably siloed in the various apps you operate across your business. It makes it almost impossible to re-use data and visualize your customer landscape.

Encanvas® CDP™ allows you to use the data you harvest to maximize customer experience and minimize operating costs.

Re-engineer internal processes and bring more value customers and suppliers through digital platforms and ecosystems authored using Encanvas Secure&Live.

Encanvas is an enterprise-grade software platform. It's designed to support business-critical applications. That means everything we do maximizes IT controls over data and the apps you publish.
